the Glades Federal Representatives at Palm Beach May 26th.

Willis Warren and Eddie Kuehne attended the second annual election of officers in the Florida Gold Coast Chapter of the Society of Savings and Loan Community of Miami, May 26th at the Peninsula Hotel, in West Palm Beach.

This organization is composed of accountants and office managers of a eleven associations in Palm Beach, St. Lucie and Indian River counties.

I. Price, Executive Director is asking whether that the request be reclarified from "File 13" and some action taken on it.

I. L. reports that 12 of the 33 organizations have responded affirmatively, and he feels sure that at least twelve more will respond if someone thinks about it at the right time.

Why? Because the community wants a City as beautiful as Nature will make it, and if given a little help in cleaning up and direction of the growth, we can have a "most beautiful city."

"Please . . . let's hear from the other 21 organizations and get going on this," I. L. urges.

It is to improve the quality of accounting procedures office functions and internal control. Newly elected R. V. Bambo of the First Federal of the "savings and loan association" may prepare for the tremendous growth that faces this area."

"Common sense is the knack of seeing things as they are, and doing things as they ought to be done." —C. E. Stowe.

ALTERNATIVE TO DELINQUENCY

Former President Herbert Hoover is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Boys' Clubs of America. At the organization's 54th annual convention he said this: "We hear much these days as to the causes and the growth of youthful delinquency. The blame is usually put on the failure of parents; the failure of religious training and the infections from the TV and radio."

"But one cause is too often overlooked. That is that the boys in many of our slum or congested areas have no place to go for air and play except the streets. Being self-starting dynamos of energy and also being gregarious, they join in groups. These groups too often step first into mischief and from there to crime."

The Boys' Clubs provide an alternative. The members are organized into teams sports instead of fistic gangs. And the clubs maintain shops and reading rooms where the boys are given the opportunity to determine their bent in life.

These clubs need financial support. It costs about $16 million a year to maintain the present clubs, and new ones are constantly being started. Their only source of revenue is voluntary donations. And every American should give, no matter how small the amount he can afford. The same thing is true of other and similar institutions — the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Campfire Girls, and so on. All of them, as Mr. Hoover points out, are short of funds. That is a condition that urgently needs to be remedied.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

"There is still a loud and persistent clamor to turn over more and more responsibilities to Uncle Sam. This embraces not only welfare but medicine and education.

"One cannot rule out the value of coordinating effort in many fields on the national level. But let us make certain that we, the private citizens, do not abandon our continuing responsibility and place it in the hands of bureaucrats."

"Those who are concerned about Soviet Russia's progress in certain fields ought to keep in mind that they not only stole our atomic secrets but several of our effective industrial methods — methods that evolved from the American free enterprise system, not the bureaucrats."

"More than 3000 people are killed each year by farm work accidents — more than in any other major industry."

"More than 11,000 farm residents are killed each year in all types of accidents."

"Farmers are getting scarcer all the time. Let's not waste them through accidents."

"Reports reaching the free world in ever greater volume from the Iron Curtain countries indicate that 15 years of sustained attack by the Satellite states on Christianity and 30 years of such atheistic crusade by the USSR have failed to eliminate Christian mores from the hearts and minds of the people."

"In all cities of Russia, large and small, churches were filled to capacity in spite of the government's general disapproval of religion..."

"The free world can well be heartened at the manner in which the chained millions of the Communist world have with dignity and forbearance answered the atheistic, decades-long crusade of the Soviet propagandists."

Postal Service Not Business Operates As Public Service

President Eisenhower's special message to Congress urging another postal rate increase presents one of those seemingly plausible arguments which is easily demolished by facts.

In essence the President says the Post Office is losing a lot of mail. Therefore mail rates should be raised to insure that the loss, or at least come close to it.

This position, which apparently came to the President specifically from Postmaster General Summerfield, is based on a fallacy.

It is the error of assuming the Post Office is a business. In reality, it is a public service.

It is true it costs taxpayers money to run the Post Office Department. It also costs taxpayers money to run the White House, the Commerce Department, the Federal judiciary, the system, the FBI — almost every Federal activity.

The costs of such public services are taken for granted. But postal service costs are labeled "deficit" and become an issue.

Why? The answer is that the Post Office is losing a lot of mail, about $200 million a year. But because the postal establishment costs more to operate than it takes in, and because a law requires annual reports comparing receipts with costs, the Post Office is singled out and charged with operating at a deficit.

Postal rates actually are a form of taxes. The Post Office does not keep the money it gets for stamping, but turns it into the treasury. Thus in urging postal rate increases the Administration is using an indirect tax hike.

Finally, the theory that the Post Office is a business doesn't make sense. Would a business charge the same fee to deliver a letter as it does to handle as it does to handle a letter from Florida to Alaska? Would a business operate a branch office in every hamlet in the nation if none of them losing money because of slight patronage? Would a business take on sideline jobs without remuneration, like selling duck stamps or registering alibis?

The Post Office is an essential public service, worth what it costs to operate.

We suggest Mr. Summerfield ought to stop proclaiming how much his department has lost and concentrate on getting the mails delivered speedily and economically.

And Congress ought to ignore the request for another boost in rates.

Editor, Belle Glade Herald:

We have been reading the "Trade at Home" articles in your Herald recently. I am interested in your article

"Getting Vegetables from the City." I'm thinking serious of just putting all my stuff in the soil bank and moving to town.

My second choice was L 390 "How to Buy a Home" and How To Control It." I must say I've been combatting this problem by putting up a few screens and buying my old lady a swatter. If they got a system that don't need a screen and will save my old lady a hand of swatting, I want to get it.

Then I ordered L 453 "How be handling this problem by hanging the bed clothes and matress.

Uncle Dan From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:

I got a printed bulletin yesterday telling me Congressmen from the Department of Agriculture was now ready and available. It took all day to read the list. They was 576 of 'em and my Congressman said I could my Congressman said I could get any number up to ten. In election year it would be mighty smart to give a feller 20.

I had a heap of trouble figuring out the list I needed most. You have to order according to the code number listed along with the name. I didn't know what might be interested. Mister Ed said my selection, in fact it might just save you a heap of time if you'd just copy down my list and git it to me. He said, "I'll be back on account of me ord'n' you to do this."

First off, I ordered G 7 "Growing Vegetables from the City." I'm thinking serious of just putting all my stuff in the soil bank and moving to town.

Communications play an ever-increasing role in the food industry. Growers, packers, shippers, buyers — all depend more and more upon telephone facilities. Pioneers Growers Co-operative, distributors of more than one hundred million pounds of vegetables annually, recently reported that 75% of their sales were made through Long Distance calls. Wedgeworth Produce, Inc., shipping almost two million crates a year, informed us that Long Distance and mobile two-way radio-telephones are essential in maintaining their sales, supplies and internal activities.

St. John Watershed

Planned Conservation Lakes

Smaller Than Tri-County Areas

Editor's Note: The St. John's upper reaches are included in plans for conservation similar to the Palm Beach-Broward-Dade areas now have. These folks supported OUR EFFORTS in securing WATER CONTROL. Turn about is fair play — Let's support THEIRS.

A proposed six-point benefit plan for water control and conservation in the Upper St. John's River, is nearing completion by the planning department of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

FCD Executive Director G. E. Dail, Jr., said this detailed plan was initiated after county commissioners within the river basin previously indicated their general approval of its basic elements.

Dail added, "It is expected that the FCD's Governing Board will be asked to endorse the study at its next regular meeting. It is anticipated that the FCD will then be recommended to the U. S. Corps of Engineers as a basis for revisions to the Federal plans for flood control and water control in the basin."

It was pointed out that the highlights of the plan are:

1. It seeks to protect natural resources while proposing a program against the hazards of flood and drought throughout the area.

2. It takes into careful consideration the need for a satisfactory compromises between water control benefits in the St. John's River, and their effects on navigation.

Dail listed the six benefits sought by the proposed plan as:

1. A dependable domestic water supply for the entire coastal region and the St. John's River area of the State.

2. Development of an irrigation water supply;

3. Disposal and control of flood waters throughout the area which, of course, will mean protection of lands for agricultural purposes;

4. Preservation of rapidly depleting fishing, wildlife and recreational potential in the area;

5. An increase in farm market values;

6. The possibility for development of some semi-urban areas along the river for fishing camps, vacation cottages, campgrounds, and parks.

In brief, the plan calls for construction of a series of dual-purpose water storage reservoirs in the low-lying marsh areas.

Since there will not be sufficient land storage to handle such enormous runoff as occurred during the flood periods of 1947 and 1953, engineers have advised that some water will have to be discharged to the Atlantic through the Sebastian Creek.

The FCD's plan therefore proposes that one diversion canal be built from the southwestern reservoir to connect with Sebastian Creek in southeast Brevard County.

In addition to the proposed four major reservoirs, the FCD plan provides for some small reservoirs in the larger swamp areas on the western slopes of the basin.

These would delay a portion of the runoff from the western slopes thereby reducing northern and easterly peak rates of runoff. The small reservoirs also to hold high groundwater levels in their immediate vicinities and thus provide irrigation water supplies for farmers.

"REACHING FORTH"
"Pus of Georgetown College
Philippians 3:13
By Dr. S. S. Hill

June is famous for roses, graduations, and weddings. "What is so rare as a day in June?" I have just come from attending my first diploma ceremony. In my respects, it was the biggest day in my educational career. The next day after graduation, we were leaving for home. It was goodby to the Academy, faculty, and students. While the sun still shone blye for the station, it sent mixed emotions into my mind and heart. It was a sad day and it was a happy day.

I want to congratulate you students. You have worked hard to receive your diplomas. You are indebted to a lot of people who have helped make this day the fulfillment of some of your aspirations and dreams.

While president of Georgetown College, I had the privilege and honor of delivering many bacalaureate sermons and commencement addresses. The class motto always impressed me as fascinating. I love this one: "Not at the top, still climbing." The thought contained in this motto is worthy of your serious consideration.

Myself, I was at Georgetown College in commencement day was "Make Good." I am sure all of your parents, school administrators, and faculty members would like to say to all June graduates of this year, "Make Good."

You have received from God a body, a mind, and a soul. All three of these are extremely important to each one of you. In order to be successful in your being in this world, you will need a strong body. We all recognize the advantages and the necessity of possessing a well-developed mind, capable of clear, logical thinking. And if you have the ability to think, to rationalize, and to weigh carefully the problems and responsibilities of life, you will constantly be in trouble. We need to be directed and lead along as we live. If you would fulfill the divine mission and purpose for which you were created, it will be necessary for you to be capable and efficient in your chosen vocation or profession.

Your heart is the center of your life. "Out of the heart are the issues of life." It is possible for a person to be riches, however, if he has no character; if you are without character, these will not supply or satisfy your deepest needs. "What would it profit a man if he gained the whole world and lost his life."

A salesman came to the campus of Georgetown College and said, "I have been told that you are to some of the students has experience of his. He said, "The president of the company with which he was associated called the entire salesmen force together and told them that he was presenting to them his own conviction concerning the qualifications of a salesman for his company, he illustrated it in this fashion. He placed an empty chair on the platform before him and said to the chair he said, "If there is one of you who is not ambitious to want to sit in this chair which is the president's chair of this company, I want your resignation now." The young salesman replied, "I have seen the effect this had on each salesman present that day." It is necessary, as you know, to have leaders, heads of institutions, business, industry, government, etc. Unless you possess the ambition to want to fill such a position of leadership, the chances are against you ever filling such a position of important leadership.

The above statements are made to you graduates because of our interest in you and because we want to see you sit in a chair that will do credit to your generation, fill a great need to humanity, and be a credit to your fellow person out of you. Again, my sincere congratulations.

Pat Geer Receives From Baylor University

Patricia Jane Geer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N. Q. Geer of Lake Worth, Florida, and formerly of Belle Glade, received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Baylor University at the 113th annual Commencement May 27.

Major General James Earl Rudder, president of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, was the commencement speaker and was awarded an LL.D. degree by Baylor. Exercises were held Friday, May 27, in the Heart O' Texas Coliseum.

Dick Dupere Home*From Nyack Univ.

Dick Dupere, a graduate of last year's class of Belle Glade High School, is home from his freshman year at Nyack, Miss., if you are without character, these will not supply or satisfy your deepest needs. "What would it profit a man if he gained the whole world and lost his life."

Belle Glade Kindergarten Graduates 38

Exercises for Belle Glade Kindergarten graduates were held at the Municipal Community Club Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The benediction was given by Father Huffman.

The Kindergarten is sponsored by the Women's Club of Belle Glade with Mrs. Howard Lamb serving as chairman. Mrs. William Thiebaud and Mrs. Emmett S. Roberts. Kindergarten assistants are Mrs. Hagan Poole and Mrs. Mary Poole.

Mrs. Lamb, the committees and teachers wish to thank the parents for their cooperation during the year. They also wish to thank the Park Chief Good safety for extending the school zone to include the kindergarten and to Frank Zuchelli for his talk to the children on helping the police and the School Patrol on safety measures.

Mothers wishing to register children for the coming year may get in touch with Mrs. William Thiebaud or Mrs. Larson Royal.

10 Year Reunion Set*B.G. Class Of 50

Plans "to get together in five years . . . or ten years . . ." are laid by many a senior graduating class, saddened at the parting of the ways after years of close association. Few such plans materialize.

An exception . . . it seems, is to be the reunion of the class of 1950 Belle Glade seniors, who have set their ten year meeting for the evening of June 18th.

About 15 of the 37 classmates; definitely acceptances have been received by 15, according to Mrs. H. G. Hobson, president. Malls are being watched daily for more commitments from out-of-staters . . . North and South Carolina, Texas, New Mexico, other states and several Florida cities.

Principal Hobson will be among those present to observe and review the changes the years have brought. A light program is planned and lots of visiting expected.

Reservations have been made at the key room of the Palms Club for the evening's get-together.

Cong. Rogers' Bill Concerning Our Flag

Representative George Rogers (D., Fla.) has introduced legislation in the House of Representatives providing that the President shall prohibit the flying of the flag of the United States anywhere except when he determines that the use for which the flag is intended, after exportation is inconsistent with the respect with which it should receive.

MAY ALL SIGNS POINT TOWARD

To each of you who are members of this year's graduating class we extend our sincere congratulations. You have just completed an important phase of your life's work and we have every confidence that you will continue your progress.

Best wishes to each of you.
